DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

Claims 1-8, 10, 12-16 and 18-21 are cancelled, Claim 9 is currently amended and Claims 11 and 17 are as previously presented.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 4/20/2009 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 9, 11 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The limitation of high frequency rolling is not provided in the specification.

Art Unit: 1793

Claims 9, 11 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 9 recites the limitation "the high frequency rolling" in line 19. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential steps, such omission amounting to a gap between the steps. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted steps are: high frequency rolling, since applicant recites a property of the steel before and after this rolling.

Claims dependent on any of the above are likewise rejected under this statute.

Conclusion

The claims as presented are free from prior art rejections because the prior art does not teach high frequency rolling. However, Kanisawa, cited in the previous office action, teaches a heat treatment that yields a hardness of 250-700 HV (abstract). Ishida et al (US 2002/0139451 A1) teaches that to improve the straightening ability by bending of pearlite blocks, it is necessary to have the size of the blocks minimized [0015]. The size of the pearlite blocks is less than 100 micrometers as shown in Table 2. If applicant amends Claim 9 to read on "high frequency hardening," then the hardness of 24-30 HRC would be an inherent property, since where the claimed and prior art products are identical or substantially identical in structure or composition, or are produced by identical or substantially identical processes, a prima facie case of either anticipation or obviousness has been established. See MPEP 2112.01.
